

SUMMARY

Magdalena Maria Urlińska-Berens

ENTANGLED FEMINITY. SUCCESS TRAJECTORS IN POLISH SOCIETY

The subjects of the dissertation are the trajectories of the success of women in Polish society and the strategies for their functioning in the situation of their social status change to a higher one in the biographical perspective. The main goal is to show the structure of internal and external factors determining the acquisition of competences and skills by women to mobilize them to change their social status (to higher), simultaneously distinguishing strategies for coping with the social role of contemporary woman (success) and differences in the way of constructing their own femininity, thanks to which they have the opportunity to change their social status. The analysis of research results provided knowledge about: features that are worth shaping and supporting, and what limitations and obstacles to eliminate in order to help women achieve higher status, while enabling them to fulfil different social roles unleashing their potential for the benefit of themselves and society.

Keywords

woman of success, femininity, life success, social role, career trajectory, recognition

12. 06. 2019

Urlińska-Berens